Clemson University Department of Sociology

Three Faculty Positions at the Assistant/Associate level

The Clemson University Department of Sociology invites applications for three tenure-track positions at the Assistant and/or Associate Professor level to begin August 15, 2006. Clemson University (www.clemson.edu) is a state, land grant institution with 17,000 students located near the foothills of the Blue Ridge Mountains. The Department of Sociology has a tradition of teaching excellence, outstanding scholarship and a collegial atmosphere. We offer a Master's Degree in Applied Sociology. The successful candidate will have a Ph.D. in sociology or a related field. A strong quantitative background and the potential for excellence in both research and teaching are required. We particularly encourage individuals with substantive interests in family, globalization, race and ethnicity, religion, or leisure/mass media/culture. However, applicants in all areas will be considered. We particularly encourage applications from individuals with interests that align with Clemson's university-wide emphasis areas: 1) Leadership and Entrepreneurship, 2) Automotive and Transportation Technology, 3) Information and Communication Technology, 4) General Education, including Science-Technology-Society, 5) Family and Community Living, 6) Biotechnology and Biomedical Sciences, 7) Advanced Materials and 8) Sustainable Environment. A record of, or potential for, extramural research funding is also preferred. To apply, send a cover letter, including a brief statement of one's research agenda and teaching philosophy, at least one writing sample, and a curriculum vita that includes the names and e-mail addresses of three references. Direct application materials to: James C. Witte, Chair, Search and Screen Committee, 132 Brackett Hall, Department of Sociology, Clemson University, Clemson, SC 29634-1356 Review of materials will begin on October 1, 2005 and will continue until the position is filled. Clemson University is an Affirmative Action/Equal Employment Opportunity Employer and does not discriminate against any individual on the basis of age, color, disability, gender, national origin, religion, sexual orientation or veteran status. All persons are encouraged to apply.
