Assistant Professor, Feminist Philosophy, tenure track. Employment to begin August 15, 2006. Area of Specialization or strong Area of Competence in Feminist Philosophy. In addition to teaching and faculty duties in the Philosophy and Religion Department, the successful candidate will be involved in activities with the Women’s Studies Program. Excellent teaching and scholarship are essential. Ph.D. prior to appointment. Women and members of minority groups are encouraged to apply. Applicants who wish to be considered for possible American Philosophical Association Easter Division interviews should have all materials in as soon as possible. Final deadline for applications is November 30, 2005. Send letter of application detailing qualifications, CV, and complete dossier, including evidence of teaching ability and letters of recommendations to

Todd May, Chair
Search Committee
Department of Philosophy and Religion
126D Hardin Hall
Clemson University
Clemson, SC  29634-0528

We cannot accept materials by fax or as an email attachment. Clemson University is an Affirmative Action Equal Opportunity Employer. AA/EOE