CLEMSON UNIVERSITY
COLLEGE OF AGRICULTURE, FORESTRY, AND LIFE SCIENCES

POSITION ANNOUNCEMENT

Vacant Position: Assistant/Associate Professor - Entomology

The Department of Entomology, Soils and Plant Sciences at Clemson University seeks candidates for a 12-month tenure-track Assistant/Associate Professor in entomology. The position is located at the Pee Dee Research and Education Center, Florence, SC and is 75% Extension and 25% research. The Pee Dee REC is an integral part of Clemson University’s Public Service Activities including the Agricultural Research and Forestry System and the Cooperative Extension Service, with 18 resident faculty and about 30 support personnel situated on a 2300-acre site.

Responsibilities:

$ State-wide Extension responsibilities will include responding to arthropod questions and problems in the Pee Dee region of South Carolina, especially with respect to agronomic crop production.

$ The successful candidate will be expected to establish an externally funded, nationally and internationally recognized, research program pertaining to arthropods of field crops grown in the Pee Dee region. The research program is expected to compliment the Extension program.

$ In addition to securing external funding, publishing in refereed journals and advising at the graduate level, collaboration with colleagues within and outside the department and other academic, state, and federal institutions, and producer and commodity organizations will be vital components of this position.

Qualifications:

A Ph.D. in entomology, with emphasis on insects of field crops, or related fields is required. A research and extension record sufficient to meet Associate Professor promotion requirements is necessary to apply at the Associate Professor level.

Salary: Salary will be commensurate with qualifications and experience.

Application Procedure: Applications will be accepted until February 3, 2006 or until a suitable candidate is identified. Applicants should send a letter describing their Extension and research philosophies, specific program goals and ambitions, qualifications for the position, curriculum vitae, transcripts, and three letters of reference to: Dr. Don Manley, Search Committee Chair, Pee Dee REC, 2200 Pocket Road, Florence, SC 29506-9727.

Assistant or Associate Professor - Entomology - Clemson University, Department of Entomology, Soils, and Plant Sciences seeks candidates for a 12-month tenure-track Assistant/Associate Professor in entomology. The position is located at the Pee Dee Research and Education Center in Florence, SC, and is 75% Extension and 25% research. The Pee Dee
REC is an integral part of Clemson University’s Public Service Activities including the Agricultural Research and Forestry System and the Cooperative Extension Service. The selected applicant will establish an externally-funded, nationally and internationally recognized research and Extension program pertaining strongly to field crops grown in the Pee Dee region of South Carolina. The research program is expected to complement the Extension program. Publishing in refereed journals and advising at the graduate level, collaboration with colleagues within and outside the department and other academic, state, and federal institutions, and producer and commodity organizations will be vital components of this position. A Ph.D. in entomology, with emphasis on insects of field crops, or related fields is required. Contact: Don Manley (dmanley@clemson.edu; 843-669-1912, ext. 231) for information. Deadline for receiving applications is February 3, 2006 or until a suitable candidate is found. Applicants should send a letter describing their Extension and research philosophies, specific program goals and ambitions, qualifications for the position, curriculum vitae, transcripts, and three letters of reference to: Dr. Don Manley, Search Committee Chair, Pee Dee REC, 2200 Pocket Road, Florence, SC 29506-9727.

Clemson University is committed to affirmative action, equal opportunity, and the diversity of its workforce. "Clemson University does not discriminate against any person or group on the basis of age, color, disability, gender, national origin, race, religion, sexual orientation, or veteran's status." An offer of employment is contingent upon establishment of identity and verification of employment eligibility as required by the Immigration Control Act of 1986.