Elementary Social Studies
Position # 3258
Asst./Assoc. Professor
Eugene T. Moore School of Education

The Eugene T. Moore School of Education at Clemson University invites applications for a tenure-track position in elementary social studies at the rank of Assistant or Associate Professor. Applicants must have achieved a doctorate related to teaching social studies by or near the August, 2006 starting date. Applicants must have significant experiences related to teaching social studies in elementary schools including experience as a classroom teacher. Expectations for this position include establishing or furthering a program of research and scholarship at the national level, teaching undergraduate and graduate courses, mentoring students (undergraduate through the Ph.D.), and forging professional relationships with educators and schools for research and professional development.

Clemson University, located along the I-85 corridor between Atlanta and Charlotte, is ranked among the top 35 public research universities in the nation. Clemson is an equal-opportunity, affirmative-action employer seeking applicants who are from diverse social and cultural backgrounds. Please see http://www.hehd.Clemson.edu/schoolofed for more information.

Application Process: To apply, send transcripts, letter of application, curriculum vita, and 3 letters of reference to Social Studies Search Committee, 102 Tillman Hall, Clemson University, Clemson, SC 29634-0702. Email an electronic version of the curriculum vita directly to brosnab@clemson.edu and make inquiries to Professor David Reinking, chair of the search committee (reinkin@clemson.edu). Salary is competitive and commensurate with experience and qualifications. For full consideration, applications should be submitted before November 11, 2005. Review of applications will begin on that date and will continue until the position is filled.

Clemson University is an affirmative action/equal employment opportunity employer and does not discriminate against any individual on the basis of age, color, disability, gender, national origin, race, religion, sexual orientation, or veteran’s status.